

THE HERBIE PROJECT
ARTIST/CRAFTSPERSON CONSIGNMENT AGREEMENT

Consignment:

In consideration of the receipt of _____ (state the volume/type of materials provided to the artist or craftsman by the Herbie Project), the undersigned artist/craftsperson hereby consigns to The Herbie Project, and the Herbie Project accepts the consignment of a 40% interest in the work of art or craft described as follows:

which work of art or craft the undersigned agrees to sell as soon as practicable following the completion of the artists'/craftspersons' project and no later than November 15, 2010.

Control and Supervision of Work/Sale of Work: The Herbie Project agrees that it has no control nor supervision of the artist/craftsman as to the nature and details of the work to be constructed or created, but does maintain the above interest, which shall be paid by the artist/craftsperson to The Herbie Project, upon sale of the work of art or craft. If the work of art or craft remains unsold as of the final sale date referenced above, then the artist shall be responsible for returning to the Herbie Project, an amount of money equal to the sale price of the utilized materials, as referenced on the pricelist established for the sale of materials from The Herbie Project following the removal of the tree in January, 2010. Once the material sale price is paid and accepted by The Herbie Project, then The Herbie Project relinquishes its consignment interest as set forth above.

Elimination of Bark from Project: Because the bark of an elm tree is the area most subject to the Dutch Elm Disease and improper handling and/or disposal of the bark could result in reintroduction of contaminated material in the environment, the artist/craftsperson agrees to remove and eliminate all bark of the tree remnants from the project or work of art and incinerate them.

Selection of Material: The Herbie Project shall schedule a date or dates for the artist/craftsperson to make selection of the materials he or she wishes to receive and incorporate into their work of art or craft. The Herbie Project makes no representations, warranties or guarantees whatsoever as to the nature, quality, characteristics or other aspects of the elm tree wood in question, and the artist/craftsperson takes the materials "as is" and without recourse. All material selection is final, but if additional material is required for a work or project, The Herbie Project shall make reasonable attempts to supplement to the artist additional material, if then available.
